UESCO standard and custom engineered cranes feature the latest technology in the overhead material handling industry. Single or two speed control for all motions, two or three step infinitely variable speed adjustable frequency control, or two, three or five speed adjustable frequency control. Operation from cab, pendant pushbutton or radio remote control. Many additional features are available on our standard pre-engineered cranes, or custom engineered cranes for special applications such as bucket or magnet cranes, outdoor or harsh environments and many other special applications.

UESCO's seventy-five plus years of experience shows best in our cost-effective pre-engineered designs: single and double girder in both top running and underrunning configurations; all featuring dual-motor drive systems. Capacities range from 1/2 thru 40 tons, with spans to 100 ft. Custom designed cranes to meet your specific needs are also available, providing the same performance and service-ability evident in the pre-engineered cranes.

The best design is only as good as the care taken in fabrication. Strict specifications, rigidly adhered to during all phases of the assembly process assure you of a quality, cost-effective lifting tool. Built of structural steel girders which meet or exceed

C.M.A.A. design specifications, UESCO cranes have a minimum deflection of 1/600, with a built-in safety factor of 5 to 1.

UESCO maintains a fleet of service trucks and installation crews skilled in all trades related to crane erection and servicing.
